The Great Commission was not reserved for career missionaries only, it was given to all disciples of Christ. Today, more than ever, the task of sharing Christ with “all the world” is dependent on churches with a missional vision. Churches who desire to be involved in a strategic mission service, must take the initiative. Mission Team Inc is a unique resource to assist churches in identifying and executing significant mission projects. Scotty Davis has the first hand missions experience and the spiritual gifts of leadership to lead your church toward an international missions commitment.
