

Volunteer Study Details

The nature of this study is faith based. The surveys and counseling are designed to work in conjunction with a law enforcement officer's Christian Faith. The study is expressly designed to utilize the Scripture of the Old and New Testament of the Holy Bible.

Other faiths or belief systems are neither criticized nor compared by this study. Chaplain Davis will be available to counsel individuals within participating departments on an as available basis but individuals of other than Bible based faiths are not included in the study.

Participation in the study must be voluntary on the law enforcement officer's part and is not a part of any government agency or municipality or local or state or federal organization. No officer who participates is under any obligation or orders to participate but does so because of a desire to seek scriptural answers from a member of the clergy surrounding the use of deadly force.

Nothing that is discussed with the chaplain or is completed as part of the Spiritual Encouragement Exercise is subject to court subpoena. No individual identities will be revealed or alluded to in the study. All information is clergy privileged information and will not be reproduced or revealed at any point in the study.

There are no fees or cost to individuals or participating law enforcement entities. Counseling and SEE completions should be done off duty by officers. Chaplain Davis works as a volunteer and does not receive any compensation for this study.

No part of this study may be reproduced without the permission of Scotty Davis.
